VOICE OF ARSENAL

It seems like old times to welcome Bolton Wanderers to Highbury this afternoon! We always regard them very much as a First Division team though our younger supporters will wonder why. Well, Bolton were original members of the Football League, and after being relegated to the Second Division several times in their early days, they enjoyed an unbroken spell in the First Division from 1911 to 1933, and they have won the F.A. Cup four times – in 1923 (the famous White Horse Final), 1926, 1929 and 1958. Yet they have still to win the First Division Championship. From 1935 to

A word now about our game next Saturday against Manchester United. Subject to the weather being favourable, we are staging a 13-years-old Schoolboy fixture between Islington and South London, which will kick-off at 1.15 p.m. Islington, incidentally, were winners of the London Gill Cup last season; the last time prior to that when Islington won this trophy, Charlie George was in the side. The Islington team has won a County trophy every year since the side was formed. South London were winners of the Henry Thornton Trophy last season. This game will be 25 minutes each way, and we are certain that you will be surprised by the standard of football achieved by these young players. We only hope that the rain keeps away and we are able to stage the match.

ARSENAL TRAVEL CLUB

V.I.P. Trip to Leipzig

There are still a very few places available on our three-day V.I.P. trip to Leipzig, when supporters will have the opportunity of travelling with the team.

PRICE £150 per person

Please contact Mr. E. Mitchell on 01-359 0205 or Mr. Farebrother on 01-408 1141.

1964 they were in the First Division. By 1970–71 they had dropped into the Third Division for the first time in their long history (they were founded as Christ Church F.C. in 1874, changed their name three years later, becoming a professional club in 1880). At last, they have won promotion back to the First Division by winning the Second Division last season. So a warm welcome to old friends.

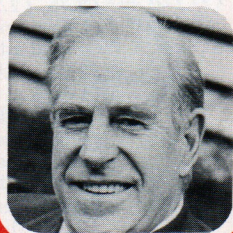

These notes are being written before our game on Wednesday evening. May we assure you that it was not our choice to play on the Wednesday. Tuesday has always been our night. Technically, however, Wednesday was the day stated by the organisers at the time of the draw, and there was very little we could do when Leipzig pressed us very hard to play on the Wednesday citing the date given at the time of the draw. We did our best through the various channels open to us to advise everyone of the changed date to save any fruitless journey to Highbury on Tuesday. We can only hope that by the time these notes are read we will have scored sufficient goals against Leipzig to make our visit there comparatively easy (if there is ever such a thing in competitive football these days!).

We have been asked to repeat this information which appeared in the first programme of the season.

who writes the first of three articles on Arsenal's 60 years in Division I of The Football League

1. The Fabulous Thirties.

This season Arsenal complete 60 years uninterrupted membership of the First Division. The nearest challenger among the present clubs in the Division are Everton, whose run stretches back 24 years.

Yet when the Football League was extended to make the Division 22 strong after the first World War in 1919, there seemed little chance of Arsenal being a member. They finished sixth in the Second in the last completed season, 1914-15, and the obvious course was to add the top two clubs from the Second - Derby and Preston - and retain the bottom two, Chelsea and Spurs.

The Management Committee had agreed to this solution but Arsenal chairman Sir Henry Norris canvassed to such good effect that Arsenal were chosen and Spurs relegated.

Arsenal hardly justified their election at first, hovering in the bottom half of the table and twice narrowly escaping relegation. The arrival of manager Herbert Chapman in 1925 swept them irresistibly to the top, changing them from an undistinguished club to be the most powerful and famous in the world.

Chapman was a dynamic, inspiring personality. He was able to lift players and had a discerning eye for their best position. He was a generation before his time, advocating among many innovations, floodlighting, a 45-minute clock, a white ball in mid-winter and numbering on shirts.

He went for experience with his first buys - Charlie Buchan, the elegant inside-forward from Sunderland for £2,000 plus £100 for every goal he scored in his first season, Scotland goalkeeper Bill Harper, Southampton captain Tom Parker and dashing outside-right Joe Hulme.

Chapman's impact was immediate. In the first season Arsenal finished second to Huddersfield - Chapman's previous club who thus completed the Championship hat-trick - and in the following year they reached the Final, to be beaten 1-0 by Cardiff.

In 1925, the year Chapman came to High-bury, the offside rule was altered, reducing the number of defenders from three to two between a player receiving a forward pass and the opposing goal. The floodgates were opened by the change and Chapman called on the expertise of his players to help devise the most suitable tactics.

To take advantage of the slowness of backs who had relied on the old offside law, he used wingers - Hulme and Charlie Jones - as the flying columns of the attack, supported by a direct, spearhead centre-forward, Jack Lambert.

In case Arsenal met three attackers like their own, Chapman made the most controversial move, converting the centre-half from a mid-field player to an out-and-out stopper. Flame-haired Herbie Roberts, signed from Oswestry for £200, was chosen to block the middle and the backs fanned out to take the wingers.

Chapman introduced another discovery at left-back, Eddie Hapgood, a former Bristol milkman picked up for a song from Kettering. His control, instinctive covering of danger points and construction were to make him England captain and the finest left-back of the generation.

About this time Tom Whittaker was made trainer, and Sir Samuel Hill-Wood, father of the present chairman, became chairman. Buchan retired and Arsenal paid the record fee of £11,500 for tall, graceful England inside-forward David Jack from Bolton.

The stage was almost set for an unprecedented surge to the top. Just one element was missing. Chapman wanted a midfield general of the highest order to link attack and defence.

His choice was a surprising one – Alex James, a goal-scoring forward from Preston for £9,000. His mission was to make goals for others instead of scoring them and it took a lot of hard talking to persuade the little Scot to agree. With long pants and flapping sleeves, James was a clear target for clearances and his use of the ball was both accurate and penetrating. In the same month, June 1929, that James joined Arsenal, 17-year-old Cliff Bastin, 'the boy wonder' of Exeter, arrived.

In their first season together Arsenal won the Cup for the first time, beating Huddersfield 2–0 at Wembley, and went even better in the following season, carrying off the Championship with 66 points – then a record – and 127 goals. In 1931–2 they made a bold bid for the Cup and League double, but James was injured during the run-in and they finished runners-up in both competitions.

The finest era was 1932–35 when they achieved the Championship hat-trick, and did so despite two grievous handicaps. They were the ageing of the side and, halfway through the run, the sudden death of Chapman.

The club temporarily lost momentum, losing three matches in a row and then regained poise to carry out the difficult business of keeping at the top while reconstructing the team. Only Hapgood, Roberts and Bastin of the team who started the run in 1932 were regulars three years later. Harper, Parker, Jones, Jack and Lambert had gone, while James could not play every match.

Recruits were secured, George Male, Ted Drake, wing-halves Jack Crayston and iron-man Wilf Copping, and Alf Kirchen, and the momentum was kept going. Lion-hearted

● THE ODD SPOT IN THE RECORDS

Arsenal have scored 62 goals in the last 20 League games against Bolton Wanderers at Highbury. This has included a 6, three 5s, four 4s, and five 3s.

THE BOLTON PLAYERS

Jim McDonagh: Goalkeeper signed in September 1976 for £10,000 from Rotherham following a month's loan at Burnden Park. Also had a spell on loan with Manchester United, but now a regular first team player following Barry Sidall's move to Sunderland, and was ever present last season.

Paul Jones England Under-23 international defender who has played the opening games of the season at full-back instead of in his customary role at centre-half. A determined defender who has already played nearly 300 League games for Bolton.

Tony Dunne Experienced Republic of Ireland international defender who has won 32 full caps for his country. Started with Manchester United and won a European Cup winner's medal with them in 1968. Signed for Bolton on a free transfer in July 1973 and has now played more than 150 games for them.

John Ritson A cartilage operation restricted John to only 20 games in Bolton's promotion-winning campaign last season, but he is now looking to regain his regular first team place. Experienced defender with more than 300 League appearances for the Burnden Park club.

Mike Walsh: Versatile young defender who made his League debut for Bolton three seasons ago. Can play at full-back and in midfield also, but is preferred in the centre of the defence, and in this capacity missed only one League game last season.

Sam Allardyce Strong centre-back who joined Bolton on leaving school, making his League debut against Notts County in November 1973. Good header of the ball, he is particularly dangerous when moving forward for set-piece moves.

Roy Greaves Long-serving midfield player in his testimonial season with the club. Has played more than 400 League games for Bolton since joining them on leaving school, and scored ten goals last season, including four from the penalty spot.

Ray Train Tenacious midfield player signed from Sunderland in March 1977 for £30,000.

Started his career with Walsall and from there moved to Carlisle, for whom he played more than 150 games. Signed by Sunderland in March 1976 for £90,000 and now seeking an extended run in the First Division.

Garry Jones Fast, dangerous striker now a regular in the Bolton side after previously going on loan to Sheffield Wednesday. Joined Bolton on leaving school and played more than 200 games in the League since then. Played in America in the close-season.

Willie Morgan Former Scottish international winger who started with Burnley before signing for Manchester United. Played more than 250 games for the Old Trafford club before returning to Burnley, and was signed on a free transfer by Bolton in March 1976.

Frank Worthington England international striker with eight full caps, Frank was signed from Leicester last October for £90,000 and has started the season in great form, scoring six goals in the first five matches. Career started with Huddersfield, and played more than 200 games for Leicester.

Neil Whatmore Free scoring striker, he was top marksman in Bolton's promotion season with 22 League and Cup goals. The season before that he was the most successful striker in Division Two with 31, and this season is looking to demonstrate his goalscoring abilities to First Division audiences.

Alan Gowling Much travelled striker signed for a club record fee of £120,000 from Newcastle in March. Started at Manchester United and signed by present Bolton manager Ian Greaves, then in charge at Huddersfield. Joined Newcastle three seasons ago and has now scored more than 100 League goals in his career.

By the men who played in them
Bob McNab remembers March 23, 1971.
Cologne 1, Arsenal 0

Arsenal's 'double' winning full-back Bob McNab will never forget the moment he conceded a penalty that cost the Gunners their dream of a triple.

It may have been a controversial decision, but it handed FC Cologne a semi-final place in the 1970-71 Fairs Cup competition.

"That defeat brought to an end any hopes we held of completing a unique 'treble'," says McNab. "It happened in the same season as our League and FA Cup successes".

"We had reached the quarter-finals, and had already beaten Cologne 2-1 at Highbury in the first leg. Everybody at the club was confident of winning the return, but as soon as we arrived in Germany we realised there was something wrong.

"Cologne came out with six practice balls, we had none. I clearly remember the Arsenal players running into their half trying to pinch one, but without success!

"For that reason, we started the game cold. When I had my first touch after five minutes, it proved to be the crucial factor in the game.

"Their winger, Kapellmann, pushed the ball past me, but never had the pace to beat me. I simply turned and pushed the ball back to Bob Wilson in goal. The ball didn't carry so I ran behind it screening it for Bob.

"I felt a knock in my back and saw Bob, whom I was facing, throwing his hands up in disbelief. What had happened was that Kappelmann had run into my back and fallen over. The referee had awarded a penalty.

"The whole match was an absolute farce. The referee was pulling out red and white cards all over the place. At the time nobody knew what they meant.

"Every time we called for the ball the referee penalised us. At half-time Bertie Mee went up to the stand to appeal to FIFA officials.

"In my opinion the penalty was an absolute disgrace. It was the only one I conceded in my career. I was always very careful not to foul an opponent in the box. It meant a certain goal, and there was no need for me to have fouled Kapellmann that night.

"Unfortunately the ref was the worst I have encountered. I have never felt any remorse for giving the goal away. Everybody who saw the game knows that I did nothing wrong.

"With only five minutes to go George Graham saw a shot cleared off the line. Charlie George saw two efforts bounce off defenders' legs. I knew we were not destined to win, especially when George Graham's last minute shot bounced off the post and into their goalkeeper's arms!

"The Germans eventually won 1-0, and went on to the semi-finals on the away goals counting double rule".

Drake, signed from Southampton for £6,000, had a major part in clinching the hat-trick. He scored 42 goals – still a club record – as Arsenal finished four points in front of Sunderland. In the next season Ted equalled the First Division record with seven goals against Aston Villa and in May obtained the only goal as Arsenal won the Cup against Sheffield United.

James, Bob John, Hulme and Roberts retired and younger players were drafted in – George Swindin, Reg Lewis, the Compton brothers Les and Denis, and myself. But it was becoming increasingly difficult to stay ahead of the opposition.

Yet in 1937–38 the League was won again. It was left to the very last day, when Arsenal beat Bolton at Highbury 5–0 and Wolves, the leaders until then, were surprisingly beaten at Sunderland.

So the Thirties brought five Championships in an eight-year spell and three FA Cup final appearances, two of which were won. In a bold attempt to maintain supremacy Arsenal splashed a record £14,000 for Wolves and Wales inside-forward Bryn Jones, to wear James's mantle.

It was August 1938. Jones took a long time to settle and at the end of the season Arsenal were fifth. Most clubs would have been pleased with the position, but after the achievements of the previous decade it was not good enough for Arsenal.
